Scholarship to young Swedish researchers

Swedish research funding organisations have decided to offer scholarships to researchers so they can attend the 6th FTP conference. "It is an excellent possibility to make use of the conference as a meeting place for young researchers", says Swedish NSG chairperson Greta Fossum.

From Research to Business is the 6th FTP conference since the start of the Forest-based sector Technology Platform. The conference offers a meeting point for the sector as well as an excellent possibility for networking.

On Monday morning November 9th just before the opening of the conference a number of side events are scheduled. One very interesting event is the Researcher's Forum. This is a new kind of poster session where researchers are invited to present their project in maximum five minutes, if possible describing openings for new businesses in the years to come. The Researchers Forum offers an excellent opportunity to get a brief introduction to a number of the latest ideas and findings from research. The Forum is open for all interested, not only those who give presentations, register now!

The Swedish National Support Group of the FTP have inspired a number of private funding organisations to offer scholarships to young researchers so they can participate in the conference and possibly give a presentation at the Researcher's Forum. Read more about the scholarships on www.nra-sweden.se (Swedish only). The Organising Committee is happy for this initiative and look forward for other National Support Groups to do the same, making use of the conference also as a meeting place for young researchers.
